

THE BARBARIAN

UNCHAINED FURY OF THE WILDS

PETER MUNKHOLM

Barbarian (Optional Class)

The Barbarian: Unchained Fury of the Wilds

Under open sky and driving storm, the Barbarian moves like a knife through the thicket—savage courage in the chest, iron in the sinew, a hunter's patience in the eyes. This is no mere warrior trained in the sterile confines of a barracks, but a primal force, a frontline breaker and wilderness champion, forged by frost, hunger, and battle rather than drill or courtly etiquette. Their very being is a testament to the untamed spirit, a fierce refusal to bend to the will of civilization's soft comforts.

Think of Beowulf wrestling sea-fiends in the cold depths, his bare hands his only weapons against the monstrous Grendel and its vengeful mother. Recall Boudica, the Icení queen, rallying her warbands with fiery speeches, leading them in a desperate, glorious struggle against the might of the Roman Empire. Picture Conan of Cimmeria, a towering figure carving through sorcery and intrigue with a blood-forged blade, his brute strength matched only by his cunning. Envision Red Sonja, the devil with a sword, trading steel for freedom against any who would seek to shackle her spirit. And remember Cú Chulainn, the Hound of Ulster, consumed by his battle-frenzy, his body transforming into a terrifying engine of war.

Your barbarian carries that rich tradition into the campaign: raw will, quick feet, and a code written not in dusty scrolls or legal tomes, but in the indelible marks of scars earned in countless skirmishes. They are a force of nature, untamed and unpredictable, a living embodiment of the wild heart that beats within all sentient beings. They may not wield the polished rhetoric of a diplomat or the arcane power of a sorcerer, but their presence on the battlefield is undeniable, their roar a challenge that echoes through the deepest valleys and across the highest peaks. They are the spirit of the untamed world, unleashed.

Prime Requisites

Strength. STR 13–15 grants +5% XP; STR 16–18 grants +10% XP.

Ability Requirements

Strength 9+, Constitution 9+.

Alignment

Any non-Lawful. Most barbarians favor Chaotic freedom or Neutral pragmatism.

Hit Dice

1d8 per level to 9th level; +3 hit points per level thereafter.

Weapons & Armor

- Weapons: Any (barbarians learn whatever kills and keeps).
- Armor: Leather or Chain Mail; shields permitted. No Plate Mail or heavier suit armor. Wearing plate or heavier negates class abilities until removed.

Armor & AC Breakdown

Use this table to determine Armor Class (AC) before magic. Apply Dexterity modifier (- for high DEX, + for low DEX), then shield and magic.

Armor	Base AC	With Shield
None / Furs	9	8
Leather	7	6
Chain Mail	5	4

Dexterity Modifier: DEX 13–15 = -1 AC; 16–17 = -2; 18 = -3. DEX 6–8 = +1; 4–5 = +2; 3 = +3.

AC Notation (Descending). Lower numbers are better. Effects that improve AC are written as -X to AC (e.g., “AC improves by -1”); effects that worsen AC are written as +X to AC.

Encumbrance & Movement (Barbarian)

Barbarians are quick when traveling light. Determine the heaviest category that applies and use that Encounter Movement; Overland is per day on good terrain.

Load State	Typical Weight*	Encounter Move (ft/round)	Overland (miles/day)
Unencumbered	Clothing, weapons only	120' (Fleet of Foot: 130')	24 (Fleet: 30)
Light	Backpack, a few tools	90' (Fleet: 100')	18 (Fleet: 22)
Moderate	Leather + gear or Chain + light gear	60' (Fleet: 65' in chain)	12 (Fleet: 15)
Heavy	Chain + heavy gear/loot	30'	6

Weights vary by campaign. Judge which row fits the kit the character is actually carrying. Running speed is triple Encounter Move; forced march risks exhaustion (RC has no universal “fatigue” condition—reduce movement or require rest at the referee’s discretion).*

Combat Role

Primary melee combatant with explosive short-burst offense (Rage) and superior fieldcraft. Barbarians excel when mobile and lightly armored.

Attack Progression (THAC0)

Barbarians use the Fighter attack progression. Roll d20, add modifiers (Strength for melee, Dexterity for missiles, magic, circumstances). A hit is scored if the total is $\geq$ THAC0 - target AC.

Fighter THAC0 by Level (1–14)

Level	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14
THAC0	19	19	19	17	17	17	14	14	14	12	12	12	10	10

Quick Reference. Needed roll = THAC0 - AC (apply bonuses/penalties to the d20 roll). If AC is negative, add its absolute value.

Example. A 5th-level barbarian with a +1 axe attacks AC 6. With THAC0 17, the needed roll is $17 - 6 = 11$; with +2 in bonuses, any 9+ hits.

THAC0 Quick Reference (Needed Roll vs. AC). These examples show what the THAC0 values mean at the table.

Barbarian Level	THAC0	AC 9	AC 6	AC 4	AC 2	AC 0
1	19	10	13	15	17	19
5	17	8	11	13	15	17
10	12	3	6	8	10	12
14	10	1	4	6	8	10

Barbarians do not gain additional attacks per round from level alone. Extra attacks come from Weapon Mastery, magic, or specific maneuvers.

Saving Throws

Barbarians use Fighter saving throw values by level. Roll d20; meet or beat the listed number to succeed.

Level	Death/ Poison	Wands	Paralysis/ Petrify	Breath	Spells/ Rods/ Staves
1-3	12	13	14	15	16
4-6	10	11	12	13	14
7-9	8	9	10	10	12
10-12	6	7	8	8	10
13-14	4	5	6	5	8

When to Use Each Save

- Death/Poison: toxins, deadly venoms, instant-kill effects that allow a save.
- Wands: effects from magical wands/rods that fire rays or bolts.
- Paralysis/Petrify: holds, ghoul touch, basilisk/gorgon petrification, tangling snares that allow a save.
- Breath: dragon breath, fireballs, cones of cold, explosive clouds.
- Spells/Rods/Staves: general spell effects not covered above (charms, sleeps, illusions).

Worked Example. A 6th-level barbarian triggers a poison needle: Death/Poison 10+ to save. The player rolls 1d20; a 13 succeeds. With Iron Constitution (+2 vs poison), the effective needed roll would be 8+.

Barbarians are hard to kill: they specialize in resisting physical perils (Death/Poison, Breath). Modifiers from class features may apply (see “Iron Constitution” and “Danger Sense”).

Class Features

Rage

Use & Frequency. 1/day at levels 1–3; 2/day at 4–7; 3/day at 8–11; 4/day at 12–14. Begin as an action; lasts a number of rounds equal to Barbarian level (minimum 3). The barbarian must see an enemy or be under threat.

Effects while Raging:

- +2 to hit and +2 damage on melee and thrown attacks.
- Temporary hit points equal to Barbarian level (gained when Rage starts; lost first; vanish when Rage ends). If temp HP exceed remaining damage at end, excess is lost.
- +2 on saves vs. Death/Poison and Breath.
- AC worsens by +2 (higher is worse in descending AC); cannot Parry or use actions requiring calm precision.

- No spellcasting or use of scrolls/wands; may still drink potions and shout commands.

Aftermath (RC Core). When Rage ends, all temporary hit points vanish. The barbarian is winded but suffers no universal penalties in core BECMI. The barbarian cannot begin another Rage for 1 turn while catching breath.

BECMI Compatibility: The Rules Cyclopedia does not define a general “fatigue” condition. If your table wants a drawback, use the optional variant below.

Optional Fatigue Variant (House Rule). Apply -2 to hit, AC worsens by +2, and -2 on all saves for 1 turn. If Rage ended because no foe remained, the penalty lasts 3 rounds instead.

Stacking. Bonuses from Rage stack with weapon magic and mastery, but not with other morale-type to-hit/damage bonuses; use the best source.

Rage Reference Table

Level	Uses/Day	Duration (rounds)	Temp HP Gained
1	1	3	1
2	1	3	2
3	1	3	3
4	2	4	4
5	2	5	5
6	2	6	6
7	2	7	7
8	3	8	8
9	3	9	9
10	3	10	10
11	3	11	11
12	4	12	12
13	4	13	13
14	4	14	14

Worked Examples.

- Level 3: Starts Rage (3 rounds), gains 3 temp hp; hits +2, damage +2. RC Core: after Rage, cannot Rage again for 1 turn. Optional Fatigue: -2 to hit, AC worsens by +2, -2 saves for 1 turn.

- Level 8: May Rage 3/day; starts with 8 temp hp for 8 rounds. RC Core: after Rage, cannot Rage again for 1 turn. Optional Fatigue: if all foes drop on round 5, penalties last 3 rounds instead of 1 turn.

Danger Sense

Years on the edge hone uncanny instincts.

- The party is surprised only on a 1 on d6 while the barbarian leads in dungeon or wilderness (unless opponents are extraordinarily stealthy or magically concealed).
- The barbarian gains +2 on saves vs. traps and natural hazards (collapsing stone, avalanches, quicksand).

Iron Constitution

- +2 on saves vs. poison and disease at all times (this stacks with Rage).
- Natural healing improves: when resting a full day, recover an additional +1 hp (total 2 hp/day, or 3 hp/day under bed rest).

Fleet of Foot

- Base encounter movement increases by +10' (per round) when wearing leather or no armor and not encumbered beyond normal. In chain, the bonus is +5'.
- Overland movement gains +25% on foot in light gear (DM adjudicates terrain and weather).

Wilderness Mastery

Barbarians thrive far from cities. They learn fieldcraft as level-based odds. Unless stated, checks take 1 turn and may be retried after conditions change.

Level	Track (d%)*	Forage (d6)	Hunt (d6)	Navigate (d6)	Hide in Wilderness (d%)
1	25%	1-2	1-2	1-3	10%
2	30%	1-3	1-2	1-3	15%
3	35%	1-3	1-3	1-4	20%
4	40%	1-4	1-3	1-4	25%
5	45%	1-4	1-4	1-4	30%
6	50%	1-5	1-4	1-5	35%
7	55%	1-5	1-5	1-5	40%
8	60%	1-5	1-5	1-5	45%

Level	Track (d%)*	Forage (d6)	Hunt (d6)	Navigate (d6)	Hide in Wilderness (d%)
9	65%	1-6	1-5	1-6	50%
10	70%	1-6	1-6	1-6	55%
11	75%	1-6	1-6	1-6	60%
12	80%	1-6	1-6	1-6	65%
13	85%	1-6	1-6	1-6	70%
14	90%	1-6	1-6	1-6	75%

- Track (d%): Find and follow tracks outdoors; in dungeons apply -20%. Modifiers: fresh trail +20%; many tracks +10%; rain/sleet -20%; high wind -10%; rocky ground -20%; soft mud/snow +20%. Lose the trail on a failed roll unless conditions improve.

Forage (d6): On a success, gather enough edible plants for 2 persons per success; each additional 2 points above the target adds food for +1 person (max party). Targets by terrain: lush 2+, normal 3+, sparse 4+, barren 5+, wasteland impossible.

Hunt (d6): Requires half a day. Success yields 1d6 rations of game; on a natural 1, a dangerous beast is encountered (referee determines). Hunting and Foraging cannot both be attempted by the same character that day.

Navigate (d6): Avoid getting lost; success ensures accurate bearings for a day's travel.

Targets: familiar 2+, unfamiliar 3+, jungle/swamp/tundra 4+, trackless desert/whiteout 5+.

Hide in Wilderness (d%): Blend with terrain at short range (40'). Fails if moving faster than a slow creep or in open ground. Situational modifiers: dim light +10%; heavy foliage +20%; open snow/flat sand -20%.

Intimidate

With a fearsome stance and battle-scarred presence, the barbarian may force a Reaction roll with +2 in their favor against creatures of HD ≤ Barbarian level (intelligent foes may parley, cowards may flee). Not mind-control; creatures immune to fear are unaffected.

Outcomes by Reaction Result

2d6 (after modifiers)	Result
2-3	Hostile : Immediate attack or treachery at first opportunity.
4-5	Unfriendly : Withdraws, calls guards, or prepares ambush; no concessions.
6-8	Wary : Holds distance, will parley if offered safe terms; -1 Morale if combat starts this turn.

2d6 (after modifiers)	Result
9–11	Impressed: Complies with a simple demand ("back away," "drop the spear"); +1 Morale to the barbarian's side if a fight breaks out.
12+	Cowed: Will retreat or obey a short command not against vital interest for 1 turn; will not pursue for the next hour.

Limits. Intimidate requires the barbarian to be clearly dangerous (weapon drawn, fresh trophies, visible prowess) and generally fails against foes with higher HD or fanatics.

Unrefined (Optional)

New barbarians begin illiterate in Common. One week of downtime and a tutor (5 gp/day) removes illiteracy. Many tribes view letters as "spider-tracks of city folk."

Class Restrictions & Conduct

- Superstition: Barbarians distrust subtle magic. Voluntarily accepting a spell effect (buff, healing, etc.) from an unfamiliar caster imposes -1 on the save if it allows one (they resist cooperation). Once a caster proves trustworthy, the penalty no longer applies with that caster.
- Heavy Armor Taboo: Wearing plate or heavier negates Rage, Danger Sense, Fleet of Foot, and Hide in Wilderness until removed.

Experience & Titles

Barbarians advance slightly slower than Fighters to pay for Rage and wilderness talents.

Level	XP Total	Title
1	0	Savage
2	2,500	Raider
3	5,000	Berserker
4	10,000	Hunter
5	20,000	Warblade
6	40,000	Champion
7	80,000	Warlord
8	160,000	Bear-Killer

Level	XP Total	Title
9	250,000	Name Level – Chieftain
10	370,000	Chieftain (10th)
11	490,000	Chieftain (11th)
12	610,000	Chieftain (12th)
13	730,000	Chieftain (13th)
14	850,000	Chieftain (14th)

Past 9th level, increase per level by ~120,000 XP. Referees may stretch or compress these steps slightly to match campaign pacing.

Equipment Notes

- Starting Gear: A barbarian beginning at 1st level typically owns a hand axe or spear, a hunting knife (dagger), leather armor, a shield, a bedroll, a coil of rope, and flint & steel.
 - Improvised Weapons: In a pinch, barbarians suffer only -2 (instead of -4) when using improvised heavy objects as weapons.

Name Level (9th): Tribe, Warband & Totem

Upon reaching 9th level, a barbarian may claim or found a Tribe. This functions as a stronghold and cultural dominion.

Founding the Tribe

Choose a homeland (wild valley, steppe, tundra, jungle edge). Construct a Great Lodge or fortified encampment.

Site	Construction Cost	Build Time	Monthly Upkeep	Population Supported
Palisaded Camp	20,000 gp	2d6 months	200 gp	100–300
Timber Lodge	40,000 gp	3d6 months	400 gp	300–600
Stone Hall	80,000 gp	4d6 months	800 gp	600–1,000

Followers. Each month roll 2d4×10 warriors arrive over time (men and women of fighting age). On a result of doubles, a named champion (level 3–5 barbarian) seeks allegiance.

Warband Capacity. The chieftain can maintain an active warband of up to 20% of the home population, supplied by hunting and tribute.

Totemic Rites

On founding, choose a Totem (Bear, Wolf, Eagle, Serpent, Boar, Stag, Lion, etc.). While on home soil and carrying the totem sign, the barbarian and warband gain:

- +1 Morale (followers only).
- The chieftain gains +1 on Reaction with allied tribes and beasts tied to the totem.

Dominion Turns (Monthly)

At month's end, resolve in order:

1. Gathering & Tribute: Roll 1d6×100 gp income from furs, amber, raids, and trade (add +1d6×100 gp if the chieftain led a successful raid this month).
2. Hunt & Herd: If the chieftain or appointed champion spends 1 week overseeing hunts, reduce the risk of famine events by 2 on the Event roll.
3. Event (d12): 1 Famine, 2 Disease, 3 Rival Claimant, 4 Merchant Caravan, 5 Totem Omen, 6 Border Skirmish, 7 Fertile Season, 8 Great Beast Hunt, 9 Sacred Duel, 10 Festival, 11 Weather Blessing, 12 Legendary Visitor (judge effects).
4. Expenses: Pay Upkeep and any warband wages (light infantry 3 gp/month, veteran champion 30 gp/month).

Barbarian Kits (Optional Subclasses)

Kits customize a barbarian's training and culture without changing the class's core chassis (HD, THACO, saves, XP table). Each kit grants benefits and imposes trade-offs. Choose at character creation; switching later requires one month of retraining and 500 gp in time/gifts.

Kit 1: Titan of Two-Hands (Great-Weapon Berserker)

A storm of steel wielding axes, mauls, and greatswords. You break lines, doors, and monsters.

Prerequisites: STR 13+. Allowed Armor: Leather or Chain (no shield). Signature

Weapons: two-handed sword, polearm, great axe, maul, spear (two-handed).

Benefits

- Heft & Swing: When using a two-handed melee weapon, add +1 damage to all hits (stacks with Rage). At levels 5, 9, 13 this improves to +2/+3/+4 respectively.
- Mighty Cleave: When you drop an adjacent foe to 0 hp, you may make one bonus attack against another adjacent enemy. This bonus attack is at -2 to hit and can trigger only once per round.

- Sunder Smash (Core-Compatible). You excel at smashing cover and barriers. When you attack doors, chests, or barricades, the referee may grant +2 to damage or an extra attempt on an Open Doors check due to sheer ferocity. Against armed foes, resolve attacks normally—this kit does not alter shield rules in core play.

House Rule Appendix (Optional): If the campaign uses Shield Break Tests, the Titan of Two-Hands gains the listed advantages there when attempting to break shields. Otherwise ignore shield breakage rules.

Trade-offs

- No Shield Use (ever). If you strap a shield, you lose kit benefits until removed.
- Bruiser's Guard: Your AC worsens by an additional +1 while Raging (total +3 instead of +2) because you overcommit to offense.

Kit Feature by Level

Level	Heft & Swing	Cleave	Notes
1-4	+1 dmg	once/round	Sunder Smash available
5-8	+2 dmg	once/round
9-12	+3 dmg	once/round
13-14	+4 dmg	once/round

Tactics: Open with Rage and target the lowest-hp enemy near a tougher foe to trigger Cleave into the real threat.

Kit 2: Shield-Wall Reaver (Defensive Phalanx)

You fight behind broad shields, locking ranks and turning enemy charge into broken spears.

Prerequisites: CON 12+. Allowed Armor: Leather or Chain. Required Gear: Shield.

Benefits

- Bulwark: While wielding a shield, your AC improves by -1 in addition to the shield's normal -1. At 9th level, Bulwark becomes an additional -2 to AC (kit benefit), for a total kit improvement of -2 while a shield is readied.
- Shield Bash: As an action, make a bash at normal to-hit; on a hit deal 1d3 damage (or 1d4 with spiked shield) and force target of ≤ your HD to save vs. Paralysis or be shoved 5' or knocked prone (your choice). No weapon damage this round.
- Wall of Brothers: If two or more allies with shields stand adjacent (base-to-base) with you, each gains an additional -1 to AC vs. missiles and +1 vs. Breath saves from the shield cover.
- Guard the Line: When you and at least one adjacent ally each wield a shield and stand base-to-base facing the enemy, treat frontal attacks as having partial cover vs. missiles (use the core cover modifier). This is a formation effect; no special timing or new actions are required.

Trade-offs

- Measured Strikes: While using a shield, you deal -1 damage with one-handed weapons (before Strength/magic). This penalty does not apply during Rage.
- No Cleave while a shield is readied; your stance prioritizes formation.

Shield-Wall Reference

Formation	Requirements	Effects
Brace	You + 1 ally with shields, adjacent	Partial cover vs. missiles for both (use core cover modifier); +1 save vs. Breath
Wall	You + 2+ allies with shields, continuous line	As Brace; the line is difficult to push back by mundane means
Tortoise (vs. volleys)	Wall + rear rank raises shields overhead	Treat as improved cover vs. massed arrows/stone drops; the formation does not move this round

Tactics: Hold corridors, protect casters, and use Shield Bash to open or close space. Pair with a spear for reach over a friend in the doorway.

Kit 3: Horse-Lord Raider (Mounted Storm)

A steppe-born striker who fights from the saddle with spear, bow, and ruthless momentum.

Prerequisites: DEX 12+. Horsemanship: You are an accomplished rider; ordinary riding requires no checks. Risky maneuvers may call for a Dexterity check at the referee's discretion. Allowed Armor: Leather only while mounted (chain allowed on foot).

Signature Weapons: spear/lance, javelins, short bow, scimitar.

Benefits

- Saddle Sure: While mounted and moving at least 30' this round, your AC improves by -1 and you gain +1 to hit with melee or missile attacks.
- Ride-by Attack: If your mount moves in a straight line 60' and you make a single melee attack with spear or lance, deal +1d6 damage on a hit; you cannot Cleave this round and must continue movement past the target.
- Parthian Shot: If you move half or more your mount's movement and make a missile attack with bow or javelin, you do so at no penalty from movement and gain +1 damage.
- Steppe Skirmish: In open terrain, you and allied mounted skirmishers under your command gain +1 Morale and may make a Fighting Withdrawal following core rules (move back cautiously; foes do not gain a free attack).

Trade-offs

- Grounded: In confined spaces (dungeons, dense forest) you lose Saddle Sure and Parthian Shot; Ride-by requires a clear line.
- Stable Before Steel: You may not begin Rage while your mount is panicked or restrained.

Mounted Maneuvers (Resolution)

Maneuver	Use	Opposed By
Trample	Move through a smaller foe; they save vs. Breath to step aside or take 1d6 (light) or 1d8 (warhorse) damage	Target's Breath save
Wheel & Volley	Two riders coordinate; both fire at mid-move with +1 to hit	Requires line of sight and 30' move
Vault	As action, dismount into adjacent square and attack at -1 to hit (no movement left)	Fails on a roll of natural 1; you are prone

Tactics: Own the open field—harry, kite, and choose where to commit. Use Ride-by to crack the first skull, then swirl out of reach.

Appendix: House Rules (Optional)

The following modules are not part of core BECMI/Rules Cyclopedia. Use them only if your table prefers additional crunch.

Shield Break Tests

Simple d6 procedure for smashing shields (Buckler 5–6; Medium 6; Tower only on Heavy Blow; modifiers for heavy blows and magic). Use only if everyone agrees.

Bloodied Ferocity

While at half hit points or less, the barbarian's melee attacks deal +1 damage. Stacks with Rage.

Unarmored Prowess

If wearing no armor and no shield, treat base AC as Leather at levels 1–4, AC 6 at 5–8, and AC 5 at 9+.

Civilized Softness

A full month of luxury life dulls the edge; lose Fleet of Foot and Hide in Wilderness benefits until a week is spent on the trail.

Referee Guidance

Kits in Play. Keep the spotlight tight: a Titan's Cleave shouldn't outshine a party's thief; a Shield-Wall should invite flanking or spellplay from foes; Horse-Lords demand battlefields with space and choke points so everyone gets to shine.

- Rage pacing: Treat Rage like a short, tactical nova. Encourage players to choose moments—boss fights, ambushes, rescue surges. The 1-turn cooldown (RC Core) ensures the choice matters; alternatively use the Optional Fatigue variant if your table enjoys a harsher drawback.
- Stack interaction: A barbarian with a magical Haste or weapon mastery can become fearsome; use encounter design, terrain, and intelligent foes to keep play dynamic.
- Wilderness odds: The table intentionally simplifies survival into a few rolls per day. Adjudicate modifiers generously for preparation, weather, and tools.
- Culture: Barbarians are not rubes; they are experts in different things. Give social doors that open to strength, honor, and deed.

Compatibility Stamp

This class book uses only core BECMI/Rules Cyclopedica procedures:

- Descending AC (lower is better). We write changes as -X improves, +X worsens.
- THAC0 & Saves: as Fighter by level (use the core tables). No separate economy or reactions.
- Actions & Timing: side-based initiative, standard to-hit/damage, Fighting Withdrawal/Retreat as per core.
- Morale & Reaction: standard 2d6 procedures; kit features modify these by simple bonuses only.
- Dominions: Name Level uses normal dominion procedures; added flavor tables are descriptive and optional.

Barbarian at a Glance (Player Aid)

- Prime: STR (CON secondary). HD: d8. Armor: Leather/Chain, shields allowed, no Plate.
- Offense: THAC0 as Fighter; Rage adds +2 to hit/+2 damage and temporary hp; 1-turn cooldown between rages.
- Defense: Tough saves vs. physical perils; Danger Sense limits surprise.
- Utility: Tracking, foraging, navigating, hiding in wilds; fast on foot.
- Name Level: Build a tribe, raise a warband, swear a Totem.

“Civilization builds walls to keep fear outside. Barbarians learn the shape of fear and make it wear their colors.”
